letter the other day to assessors:

DEAR SIE—The state board of equalization has been much perplexed in the discharge of its duties by reason of the great inequality in the assessment for the different counties. This inequality relates to both real and personal properties. The board is in receipt of letters from county assessors suggesting the advisability of a convention of such assessors for the purpose of conferring and agreeing upon some tas a that would bring atout approximate equality in assessments and a closer conformity to law. Such a convention has been held in indiana with excellent results. The state board has discussed the subject and the members unanimously agree in the equality in the state board has discussed the subject and the members unanimously agree in the equality and I have been requested to address a confimmumication to every assessor in the state, siggisting that a convention be held here at the capitof treeslay, May 22, 1931.
